A little about Laura...

Creating art and beading began for Laura when she was a child. Her mother, a very talented artist, taught her beading on a loom while sharing the joy of creativity.

Training in art, color, theatrical costuming, glass lampworking, metalwork, wirework, beading and communication have led Laura to teaching the art of beadwork. Her extensive background in theatrical costume design has provided a great deal of related experience, especially in the area of color selection and tonal relationships. Favorite past productions include Costume Designer for "Camelot" and "Cats" and Jewelry Designer for "Evita". She has been taking classes and now teaching at the Bead and Button Show for many years.

Art and culture around the world have provided Laura with tremendous inspiration, as have the long walks along a beautiful river near her home in Minnesota. She has demonstrated for Toho Beads, toured the Miyuki Shoji Bead Factory in Japan and trained with a master instructor in Tokyo.

Laura has taught throughout the US and Europe, including teaching for Swarovski and Toho Beads. The German bead magazine, Perlen Poesie, featured Laura in their 4th issue. In 2014 Laura was a designer of the year for Beadwork magazine. Her work has been featured in many publications and used to advertise Bead & Button Show, Beadfest and Beaders Best Bead Fair.

As a recognized international designer and instructor, Laura is eager to share her love of color, design and bead artistry.

Crystal Windows

These intriguing beaded beads are reminiscent of antique Victorian slide bracelets. Learn two fast and easy methods to build the perfect settings for a sparkling Swarovski crystals. These light catching little beaded beads can be strung to make beautiful bracelets, earrings, pendants, key chains, or cell phone charms.
